News Analysis

Rising yields halt benchmarks' winning streak; Sensex falls 487 points

Indian benchmark equity indices broke their three-day winning streak on Friday after a fresh bout of bond volatility rattled the equity markets. After opening higher, the indices fell before recovering some losses in the last hour of trade.

The benchmark Sensex ended the session at 50,792, a decline of 487 points or 0.95 per cent. Bond yields rose, hitting US stock futures, after US President Joe Biden said the country aims to make vaccination available to every adult by the start of May.

On Thursday, Biden signed a $1.9 trillion American rescue plan, which is expected to provide a significant boost to the US economy. In the last few weeks, bond markets have been volatile amid concerns that a swift US economic recovery would increase inflation.

Investors are worried that the US government's fiscal stimulus and return to normalcy could stimulate the economy quickly and lead to a surge in prices.
