Centre asks banks to foot 'interest on interest' bill in loan moratorium

The Union finance ministry has informally told banks to reimburse or adjust the compound interest they charged customers in line with the Supreme Court's order asking them to refund "interest on interest" collected from accounts that sought a moratorium.

Banks have been told that they can also adjust the amount against future liabilities for all accounts, irrespective of whether they opted for the moratorium or not, similar to the scheme the government announced for loans up to Rs 2 crore, said an official aware of the development. The government hasn't shown any inclination to compensate banks for the compound interest waiver, estimated at around Rs 8,000 crore, the official said.

The lenders have also asked the IBA to approach the Department of Financial Services as their balance sheets are stretched. The Supreme Court on March 23 ruled that banks cannot charge interest on interest for accounts that sought a moratorium last year and the amount so collected must be refunded in the next installment of the loan account.
