

The bumpy ride continued for second consecutive series as we witnessed the benchmark index breaching the crucial supports one after another to almost touch the lows of March series. Fortunately, in the midst the selling got arrested and then the benchmark index made couple of attempts to recoup losses, but all the efforts went for toss as we observed sharp selling as we approached the vicinity of 16400. On the final day of the May series, the Nifty plunged below the psychological mark of 16000 to test 15900 but smart buying emerged to reclaim 16200. Finally, we concluded yet another series of financial year 2022-2023 in red with a cut of more than six percent.

During the series, we observed formation of decent shorts in both the indices. Overall participant wise, the shorts formed in Nifty have been rolled over to June series but in case of banking index, covering has happened as we saw open interest reduction MoM. Stronger hands continue to curb liquidity from the Indian equity market, they sold to the tune of almost Rs. Fifty Two thousand crores which is highest since April 2020. As far as FIIs' F&O activity is concerned, they seemed to have carry forwarded majority of longs in index and stock futures. Hence, the index futures 'Long Short Ratio' has improvised from 35% to 45% series on series. At current juncture, 16000 has once again become a sacrosanct support zone for our market and until we manage to sustain above same traders should use declines to add longs in market. On the higher side, 16400-16500 remains a sturdy hurdle and surpassing of same shall open doors for 16800 followed by 17000 zone.
