

Sensex (58795) / Nifty (17536)

Market had a positive start yesterday despite mixed global cues. In the initial trades, it looked a bit tentative as there was some hangover left of previous day's late correction. Fortunately all these nerves settled down in the first half an hour and then it was all big boy RELIANCE's show thereafter. The stock kept surging throughout the day to mark whopping gains over 6% percent. It is needless to mention when this heavyweight moves in this fashion, it certainly takes the benchmark alongside it. If we look at the contributors list, this stock single handedly pushed Nifty beyond 17500 as it contributed 104 points in Nifty yesterday.

The November series ended with slightly less than couple of percent, which clearly snapped its recent winning streak. Also last couple of weeks have been difficult for the markets overall as they certainly went under the hammer. After Monday's brutal knock, the Nifty seems to have slipped into a consolidation mode. The immediate range would be 17600 to 17200; where 17200 becomes a sacrosanct support and on the flipside, 17600 – 17700 is to be seen as a sturdy wall. We continue to remain on the cautious side and expect the current recovery to get sold into. Hence, traders are advised to start lightening up longs if Nifty enters the mentioned resistance zone.

Exhibit 1: Nifty Daily Chart

For today, 17400 – 17300 are to be seen as immediate supports. We reiterate that till the time we do not surpass 17900 – 18000, one should continue with a sell on rise strategy. Sooner or later it is likely to breach the key support of 17200.

Support 2 – 17300	Resistance 2 – 17700

Nifty Bank Outlook - (37365)

On the expiry day, Bank Nifty started on a mild negative note however it immediately slipped lower to mark an intraday low of 37118 in the first half an hour. Subsequently, as the benchmark bounced back with the support of the heavyweight Reliance, the banking index also witnessed a modest recovery but majorly traded within a range and ended with loss of 0.21% at 37365.

As highlighted above, the bank nifty as well after taking a strong knock on Monday, are trading within the range of the big bearish candle. In this the lower support range is at 37000 - 36600 whereas on the higher side 37800 and 38000 is the stiff resistance zone. As highlighted earlier, we remain cautious and expect the lower range to be broken sooner and hence traders should not get carried away with inbetween bounce and infact use them to lighten up the long positions.

View

- After last couple of series winning streak, due to the correction seen in last two weeks we concluded the November series in red with a cut of nearly two percent.
- FIIs were net sellers in the cash market segment to the tune of Rs. 2300 crores. In index futures, they bought worth Rs. 598 crores with good amount of fall in open interest due to expiry.
- In November series, we witnessed majority of short formation in both the indices and these positions have been rolled over too. Rollover for Nifty and BankNifty stood at 82.56% and 83.76% respectively. Surprisingly, stronger hands halted selling in index futures and opted to add some longs in recent correction and have rollover these longs in the next series. This has resulted, Long Short Ratio surging from 54% to 70% now. However, they remained net sellers in equities for the November month. Considering the rollover data, we believe most of the shorts are still intact and until we don't see a sustainable move beyond 17800, we would maintain our cautious stance on market.
